FROM NOVEMBER 24. TO NOVEMBER 30. 1738.

H A G U E, Sept. 10. O. S.

COUNT Gallowkin, Ambassador Extraordinary from the Empress of Russia, notified to the President of the States-General on the 8th Inst. that by a Courier from Petersburg he had received Advice, that from the 2th to the 28th of last Month, there had been many Skirmishes between the Russian Army commanded by Count Munich, and the Turks and Tartars, in which the latter were always beaten; and that on the 30th ult. there had been a considerable Action, wherein the Troops of the Empress had greatly the Advantage, and the Infidels had lost a vast Number of People; that on the 6th Count Munich had not pass'd the Dniester, but proposed to do it as soon as he could find a convenient Place for that purpose. In the mean Time he had caus'd his Army to encamp upon the River Kameck, where there was Forage for the Cavalry in great Abundance.

BELGRADE, Aug. 23. O. S. The last Advices from the Turkish Army say, that some Days after the taking of Orsova, the Grand Vizier detach'd some of his Troops towards Transylvania, and declar'd that he would march his Army towards this City; that he had accordingly sent Orders to all Places upon the Road to furnish Provisions and Forage, and that having at the same time caused a Proclamation to be made in the Army, that such as would go before Temeswaer, should have an additional Gratuity, over and above their ordinary pay, by reason of the Plague which rages in that Country; above 8000 Volunteers had offer'd their Service for that Expedition. We are assur'd, that upon this Advice, General Egelkoffen has receiv'd Orders to throw himself into Temeswaer with 2000 Men. The Imperial Army is still encamp'd at Wisniza, a League from this Place, where they have laid a Bridge over the Danube to preserve a Communication with the Bannate. An Officer went four Days ago to Parsova, in order to carry 2500 sick Persons from thence to Palanca, a Village on the other side of the Danube near Salankemen, where they will be shelter'd from any Incursions of the Enemy.

WARSAW, Aug. 27. The last Letters from the Crown Army say, that the Russians and the Turks had been for some time furiously cannonading each other Night and Day; that the latter omitted nothing that might prevent the Russians from laying a Bridge, who were likewise much harass'd by the Turkish Cavalry. A Report has been since spread, that the Russian Army had mov'd up the River towards Raskow, in order to meet with a more convenient Place to Ford it, and that the Infidels were coasting it on the other side to observe their Motions.

BELGRADE, Aug. 28. 'Tis certain that it was agreed by the Capitulation of Orsova, that the Garrison should march out with their Artillery, Arms and Baggage, and other military Honours. Tho' the Enemy had begun to batter the Place, they would not have surrender'd so soon if the Danube had not been so shallow at that Place as to give the Besiegers an Opportunity of passing over the Sand-Banks with which Orsova is encompass'd, and of making a general Storm upon the Body of the Place. The Emperor's Army, before it pass'd the Danube, was reinforced at Cuban by the Regiments of Cuirassiers of Lanthieri, St. Ignon, and Diemar, by two Squadrons of Caraffa, and two Regiments of Foot of Konigsberg and Old Daun. The Bridge over which this Army pass'd that River is 1500 Feet long, and consists of 103 Boats; It has been resolv'd to let it remain where it is, in order that it may be of use another time, when it shall be tho't fit to return into the Bannat of Temeswaer. The Head of the Bridge, which is near Semendria, is encamp'd in such manner as to form a Square, whose first and second Divisions turn their Backs to each other, and the Cavalry takes up the two Sides or Wings of it. As the Workmen employ'd in the Fortifications of this City were digging, they found a great Quantity of Coins of sundry Metals, which were in use among the Greeks and Romans, besides several Figures of Pagan Deities, and other Antiquities. Since some Troops have been sent from hence to the Army, the Garrison consists of eight Battalions, besides a Company of Grenadiers and 100 Hussars.

Aug. 30. The Prince of Saxe-Hilburghausen being perfectly recover'd of his Indisposition, set out from hence on the 25th Instant on his Return to the Army. Care is taking for the Defence of Temeswaer, if it should be attacked. On the 27th an Engineer with 26 Gunners were sent from hence thither, and a supply of the like Number is expected here from Peterwaradin. A few Days ago the Commandant of this Place caused all the useless or unserviceable Persons, and such as live idly and follow no Employment, to be seized by the Guards, carried out of the Town, and conveyed over the Bridge on the Saave. A Number of Men have been employed for several Days in strengthening our Fortifications.

EDINBURGH, Sept. 4. We hear, that on Sabbath last, 27th of August, there was a Field-Meeting held in the Parish of Kilmacomb, by Messieurs Moncrief and Thomson, occasion'd by a very few mean People

People petitioning the Seceding Presbytery : And though the principal Heritors and whole Elders, to the Number of 13, previous to their coming to the West, wrote earnestly to two of these Gentlemen, dissuading them such a disorderly Step, letting them know there was no Pretence of any Intrusion in that or neighbouring Congregations, or that they were any Way desired or expected by the judicious or sober Part of the People ; yet such Pains had been taken to acquaint the whole Country far and near of the Meeting, and such a Curiosity raised among them, that they could hear Things that had not been heard 50 Years before, and such Freedom used in reproving Sin, and the Faults of Ministers laid open, that above 7000 People assembled ; which did more resemble a great Market, or Fair, than a Christian Assembly, by carrying Loads on Horseback on the Lord's Day, in the middle of Divine Service, buying and selling openly, to the scandalizing of many : Yea, so insolent and ungovernable were the imperious Crowd that they erected two Tents in a Gentleman's Inclosures, who has sustained much Loss, trampling his own and his Tenants's Grass and Corn, and overturning his Walls and Inclosures. And to shew they regard nobody, made Choice of a sham Eldership, and collected a good deal of Money from the People, which the Ministers, with these Elders took upon them to dispose of as they thought fit. By this there is erected a Seceding Session, as well as a Presbytery, imperium in imperio. People are all at a Stand, where it will end, since tho' they have only as yet erected Church Judicatories, who knows, when they have wrought up the Populace to a proper Ferment, but they may next think fit to amend and model the State.

L O N D O N, Sept. 15. Our Advices from Vienna of the 6th Instant, are, that it is certain that the Turks are marching in three Bodies towards the Frontiers of Hungary ; the principal of which, commanded by the Grand Vizir, is advancing to the Morava in Servia, where that Prime Minister has laid a Bridge ; and that in all Appearance there must be a Battle if the Infidels pass that River : The other two Bodies are marched into the Bannat of Temeswaer.

The Imperial Army has drawn near Belgrade. The Foot encamps at Wisniza, about a League from that Town, and the Horse near the Saave, where there is great Plenty of Forage.

The first Column of the Bavarian Troops taken into the Emperor's Service arrived at Vienna the 4th Inst. and the rest are expected there in three or four Days. It is pretended that the Hungarians have engaged themselves to raise and maintain at their own Expence 30,000 Men well armed, in order to act against the Turks ; in Consideration of which his Imperial Majesty has granted them the Liberty to export whatever Goods and Merchandize they please during six Years. The Garrison of Orsova arrived at Vipalanka the 29th of last Month.

Letters from Smyrna, by the Way of Leghorn, bring Advice, that Sari-Bey-Oglow still persists in his Rebellion against the Grand Seignior ; that he is fortifying the principal Places in his Possession, assumes the Right of coining Money ; and that the Inhabitants of 400 Villages in those Parts have sided with him : They add, that this Rebellion causes a great Consternation among the Inhabitants of Smyrna ; and that they doubt whether the Bashaw with three Tails, whom the Grand Seignior has sent thither with 1000 Men, will be able to undertake any Thing against the Rebels.

Septemb. 16. According to Advices from Paris of the 12th Instant, People there are under dreadful Apprehensions of suddenly seeing an extraordinary Revolution of Affairs in general, as well within the Kingdom of France as out of it, all which is feared will inevitably happen upon the Death of Cardinal de Fleury who has almost a continual Looseness upon him, accompanied with a Heftick Fever, and a Swelling in his Legs. This Disorder of his Eminence revives the Factions in such sort, that the whole Court is in Agitation.

Sept. 18. They write from the Hague, that the Marquis de St. Giles, over and above what he hath heretofore declared to the States General, having been lately informed by the Spanish Minister at the Court of Great Britain, of the particulars of the Propositions of Accommodation between his Court and that of London, has communicated the same to the Members of the Government, and assur'd them that in the Accommodation which was now upon the Tapis, the King his Master has had, and always will have a particular Regard for the Interests of their High Mightinesses : That his Majesty was far from being insensible of the great Prudence by which the States General had conducted themselves, in respect to the Misunderstandings between the Court of Great Britain and that of Spain ; and that his Catholick Majesty was very desirous to regulate every Thing with the Republick in so effectual a manner, as to avoid for the future all Occasions of Complaint ; the King of Spain judging that the surest Means of obtaining so valuable an End would be to form a new Convention for Commerce and Navigation on one Part, as well as the other ; and that their High Mightinesses would send the necessary Instructions upon this Subject to M. Vander Meer, their Ambassador at Madrid. These obliging Assurances appear to have a great deal more Sincerity in them than those formerly made upon the same Subject, for which their High Mightinesses are more oblig'd to the warlike Preparations of the Court of Great Britain than to their own passive Conduct, which would never have caused so remarkable a Change in the Behaviour of the Spanish Court, which not long before the Arrival of the British Squadron in the Mediterranean talk'd in a quite different Strain, as well in regard to Great Britain, as to the States General.

By Letters from Vienna we are told, that the Russian Minister there had received an Express from his Court, who has brought him Account, that the General Count de Munich was at last arrived before Bender, notwithstanding all the Obstructions he had met with in his March from the Turks and Tartars.

Sept. 23. There are Advices from PARIS, that are look'd upon as authentick, which say, that Mademoiselle de Cha---ois, Sister to the Duke of B-----n, through contracting a great Intimacy with the Marchioness de Mailly, and making use thereof to a particular Purpose, has surprisngly insinuated herself into Confidence at Court : So great is her Power there, that her Brother the Duke of B-----n would willingly have made use of it with the King, to have got himself more perfectly re-established in his Majesty's good Graces, and to have pav'd the Way for his succeeding as first Minister after the Death of Cardinal Fleury : He accordingly made Application to her for that Purpose ; but this Lady neglecting, or perhaps not being able to gratify her Brother's ambitious Desires, has been violently reproach'd by him ; the Duke of B-----n, having among other Things, told her, that she could no way so effectually wipe off the Stain of having ingloriously contributed to the Pleasures of a Prince, as by making use of the Interest she had thereby gain'd in him, in Favour of a Brother to whom she ow'd many Obligations. Cardinal Fleury, who it's now reported, was not so greatly indispos'd as has been publish'd, retir'd to Issy, not so much on account of Indisposition, as through Pique, which he took at the King's being tête à tête in his Closet with Mademoiselle de Cha---ois, and obliging him to wait three Hours before he could get Admittance : And this, it's said, was the mortifying Occasion of his Eminence's retiring so precipitately to his Country Seat ; where, as soon as he was arriv'd, he wrote a Letter

Letter to his Majesty of four Pages. There had been other Matters, at which the Cardinal had taken some Dislike, and particularly at certain blank Articles in the Account of the Expence of the King's Tour to Fontainebleau, which amounted to a very large Sum. Things are however a little reconciled, though not in such Manner as to prevent the Factions at Court from industriously carrying on their Intrigues, from whence some People expect in a short time to see considerable Revolutions. The whole Court was mighty impatient to be present at the first Interview between the King and the Cardinal, after his Eminence's Return from Italy, in which, it was observ'd, great and real Friendship appear'd on both sides.

B O S T O N, Novemb. 13.

About a Week ago Capt. Vickery arrived here from Antigua, with whom came a Gentleman, who informs, that by the Hurricanes that happen'd in the West-Indies on the 18th of August and 16th of September last, prodigious Damage was done among the Islands, particularly at Monserrat, where half the Houses were destroyed, and 25 Wind-Mills; and 'tis judg'd that in both Hurricanes upwards of 50 Sail of Vessels have been lost, at least 30 of which belonged to North-America, among whom are the following Vessels, viz. Capt. Couzens, Capt. Sleight, Capt. Martin, Capt. Papoon, and Capt. Owen, and several Sloops came ashore at Santa-Cruz and Spanish-Town. It is further added, that a great many Sails, Masts, &c. with at least Ten or a Dozen large Sloops, Bottom-upwards, have been met with at Sea.

We have received the following Account of the August Storm, from Capt. Dorby, who was then at Nevis, in a Ship belonging to this Town, and is since come in here to refit.

I Put out of the Road of Nevis on the 18th of Aug. last, at Noon, the Wind blowing very hard at N. and N.E. in Company with Nine Sail of other Vessels, viz. the Ship Grenadier, Capt. Burroughs, Ship Gloucester, Capt. Berwick, Ship Sea-Nymph, Capt. Barnes, Brig Sarah, Capt. Sears, and 5 Sloops, viz. Capt. Corey in a large Sloop from Rhode-Island, Capt. Elkins from Salem, Capt. Astin from Boston, Capt. Edwards and Capt. Monford from New-London. At 5 Afternoon we all brought to a Hull, at 10 at Night I was obliged to cut away my Main- and Mizzen-Masts, to ease my Ship, having 4 Feet of Water in the Hold. The next Morning the Weather was something moderated, when I saw Capt. Berwick, who had lost his Main- and Mizzen-Masts; about 8 I drove by a Wreck which I took to be Capt. Monford. All that Day as we drove along, we met with the melancholy Signs of Shipwreck. The 22d I arrived at St. Thomas's, where I found the following Vessels, all disabled, viz. Ship Grenadier, Capt. Burroughs, who had lost his Fore- and Mizzen-Mast, and the Head of his Main-Mast; Ship Lydia, Capt. Ladd, who had lost all his Masts; Ship Charming Molly, Capt. Pike, who had lost his Fore Mast and the Head of his Main and Mizzen Masts; the John Pink, Capt. Paul, who had lost his Fore Mast and Bow-sprit; the Gloucester, Capt. Berwick, who had lost his Main and Mizzen Masts, and the Brig. ---, Capt. Soames, who had lost his Main Mast. I sailed from St. Thomas's the 11th of September, a few Days before which I heard from the Leeward-Islands, and of all the small Vessels that put to Sea, not one was arrived, and 'tis much to be feared are all lost. Capt. Berwick inform'd me, that the Morning after the Gale, he passed by a large Sloop, which was overset, which he knew to be Capt. Corey of Rhode-Island. Capt. Nevin left his Ship after the Weather was over, full of Water, and her lower Deck blown up, and came to St. Thomas's with all his Men; Capt. Whitwood in the Ship Frederick was overset, and no Account of him or Company. My own Damage is very great, having lost my Main and Mizzen Masts, and sprung my Fore Mast, and lost almost a whole Suit of Sails. My Damage in the Hold is yet unknown, tho' doubtless very great, having had 4 Feet Water in it.

Capt. Dorby's Ship is now unloading, and by what appears, 'tis tho't he has lost near an hundred Hogheads of his Sugars.

Extract of a Letter from Kingston in Jamaica,
Dated Sept. 20. 1738.

S I R,

I AM sorry I have this bad News to acquaint you with, viz. That John Gilbert was taken about a Month ago, in a Place called English Plain, on the South Side of Hispaniola, and lost the Sloop and all the Cargo, which was a Thousand Pounds Damage to him of our Currency; but he and his People made shift to escape, and get ashore in the Craft, & are since come to Jamaica. We expect that Capt. Bedlow and Capt. Bennet are also taken. Capt. Deal of Port-Royal, who had 160 Negroes on Board, and one Moses Mendos, a Jew, are taken and put in Goal. Several other Vessels from the Windward Islands are also taken; and all by a Man of War Sloop that had lain at Port-Royal, which belong'd to the French, with the Assistance of the said Gilbert's Sloop, which is now made a Privateer by the French. --- Capt. Russel, one of our Forty Gun Ships, brought in a Prize this Day, which was a Spanish Merchant-Man, having 22 Six Pounders on her main Deck, and 6 Four Pounders on her Quarter Deck, and 140 Men; a very rich Vessel, suppos'd to be worth Forty Thousand Pounds, her Cargo consisting of Geneva, Brandy and Wines, with some rich Dutch dry Goods; the Capt. of her having a Commission from the Governor and sign'd by several other Gentlemen of Cracoas. She was chased by our Man of War two Days and at last taken off of the Isle of Pinco: Had not the Man of War struck open her lower Deck Ports, the Merchant Man would have presently given her a Broad Side; but upon seeing what they did not expect, they struck to our Man of War. It is suppos'd that this is the Ship which took the Loyal Charles, and several other Vessels out from Jamaica bound Home. We are afraid our People in Jamaica are so favourable that she will not be made a Prize. She was design'd, after she had taken all she could meet with, for the Bay, and there likewise to take all she could.

I remain Your Humble Servant, &c.

By Capt. Chickering from Jamaica we are inform'd, that the English Commodore soon released the Spanish Ship, and gave her Leave to depart; but the Governor not satisfied with the Commodore's Proceedings ordered the Commander of the Fort not to let her pass, who fired 8 Guns before she would bring too, soon after which the Governor call'd a Court, which clear'd her also.
